

Undergraduate Summer Research Internships (USRI)

The Western Undergraduate Summer Research Internships (USRIs) provide undergraduate students with engaged research experiences under the mentorship of a faculty member, and are intended to stimulate undergraduate students' interest in research through direct exposure and hands-on experiences conducting research.

These paid internships run 16 weeks, May-August. Students receive first-hand experience in undertaking an exciting research project under the direction of a qualified faculty mentor/supervisor. Faculty mentors benefit from meaningful engagement, assistance towards their research program and can use the opportunity to further a diverse HQP training environment.

All students enrolled in Social Science majors are encouraged to apply, but preference will be given to students from under-represented groups and 3rd year students returning to Western in fall 2023. Please see our website for full details on eligibility and application process.

Deadline to apply: March 31st
