Course Description and Objectives: This introductory course is intended to give students a broad overview of the study of politics. We will study such essential questions as: What is the meaning of such terms as 'nation' and 'state'? Who holds political power, and why? How might groups participate in political activity? Why is conflict so prevalent in the world today? Why does inequality exist, and what factors influence the distribution of wealth in society? How does the role of the state differ across economies? What factors shape political attitudes? What role does media or social media (Twitter and Facebook) play in global politics? This course will introduce the key concepts and theories which give us leverage over these questions, as well as over such issues as democracy and citizenship, electoral politics, sovereignty in the modern world, the sources of foreign policy, and so on. This course will also provide an opportunity to explore some subfields in Political Science such as: political philosophy; international relations; international political economy; comparative politics (of the developing world); and economic development. At the conclusion of this course students will be familiar with important concepts and methods of analysis within the discipline of politics; become more able to understand and critically evaluate political developments within society; and develop an enhanced theoretical understanding of the ideas and practices that inform politics.

Required Textbooks: There are two required textbooks for this course and they are available for purchase at the bookstore. (*You will be responsible for all weekly-required readings)

Important Notice Re: Prerequisites/Antirequisites: Please Note: You are responsible for ensuring that you have successfully completed all course prerequisites, and that you have not taken an antirequisite course. Lack of prerequisites may not be used as a basis for an appeal. If you are found to be ineligible for a course, you may be removed from it at any time and you will receive no adjustment to your fees. This decision cannot be appealed. If you find that you do not have the course prerequisites, it is in your best interest to drop the course well before the end of the add/drop period. Your prompt attention to this matter will not only help protect your academic record, but will ensure that spaces become available for students who require the course in question for graduation.

Distance Studies Expectations: This course requires that the student and the instructor participate as a class, sharing ideas, concepts, and understanding of course materials. As such, it is expected that students maintain a high level of interaction and discussion via WebCT. Students will be expected to contribute to the weekly discussions. Such participation is necessary for creating and maintaining interest and understanding across the wide array of weekly topics.

Communication: Communication between students and the Professor will generally occur via email (aali84@uwo.ca). Students are encouraged to visit office hours if possible. They occur Tuesdays, from 10-12 noon in the Social Science Centre, room 4134. As well, arrangements to speak with the Professor using the WebCT chat-function can be made upon request.

WebCT: If you experience problems with WebCT please contact the ITS Help Desk at (519) 661-3800. For hours and additional information please visit list of common problems and solutions are available at

Course Evaluation:
1. Discussion Board Participation: 10%
2. Critical Analysis: 10% (Due: June 3, 2011)
3. Mid-Term Exam: 20% (Due: June 25, 2011)
4. Essay: 25% (Due: July 15, 2011)
5. Final Exam: 35%
   (Written during the final exam period, between August 2-5, 2011).

1. Discussion Board Participation

   As a regular feature of the course the Instructor will pose questions or problems requiring short written answers. These questions will facilitate a form of “classroom discussion” and an exchange of ideas on key issues and topics. The discussion board is worth 10% of your total grade. You will be expected to contribute a minimum of two discussion board posts each week.

2. Critical Analysis

   Students are required to submit a 3 - 4 page analysis of an assigned reading. Your analysis should not ‘repackage’ or ‘reword’ what the readings state. Rather, it should answer a series of questions that will allow you to further understand the point of the reading and identify any shortcomings in the presented arguments. Your analysis should also present your own opinion on the topic. Additional details will be posted on WEBCT.

- The assignment must be no longer than 4 pages [excluding title page and bibliography] in length, Times New Roman size 12 font, 1” margins, and double-spaced. Anything exceeding these requirements will be disregarded in the evaluation of your paper.
- Extensions will be granted only for mitigating circumstances or medical reasons (for which written proof of substantial distress must be provided).
- Late assignments will be penalized 10% points if they are not received by 11.30pm on Friday, June 3, 2011. Assignments will be assigned a mark of zero if they are not submitted by 11.30pm on Friday, June 10, 2011.
- Technical problems, such as hard drive crashes, are not grounds for an extension - please ensure that you routinely ‘back-up’ your work.

3. Midterm Exam

The midterm exam will be based on material we cover from weeks 1 - 6. Additional details on the format of the midterm exam will be posted to WebCT.

4. Essay

The essay is due on Friday, July 15, 2011. Detailed instructions regarding the essay will be posted on WebCT. You are required to write a research essay that uses a minimum of five academic sources. Essays will be graded based on the cogency and coherence of argument and the ability to incorporate and use supporting evidence. Grammatical errors, spelling mistakes, and poor organization affect the professionalism of your essay and will result in a penalty of a maximum of 5 percentage points.

- The essay must be 6 - 8 pages [excluding title page and bibliography] in length, Times New Roman size 12 font, 1” margins, and double-spaced. Anything exceeding these requirements will be disregarded in the evaluation of your paper.
- Extensions will be granted only on humanitarian grounds or on medical grounds (for which written proof of substantial distress must be provided).
- Late essays will be penalized 15 percentage points if they are not received by 11.30pm on Friday, July 15, 2011. Essays will be assigned a mark of zero if they are not submitted by 11.30pm on Friday, July 22, 2011.
- Technical problems, such as hard drive crashes, are not grounds for an extension - please ensure that you routinely ‘back-up’ your work

5. Final Exam

The final examination will be held during the Examination Period [August 2-5, 2011]. The final exam will cover material from the assigned readings, the instructor’s posted notes, and student discussions on WebCT. Additional details on the format of the final exam will be posted to WebCT.

Academic Accommodation: If a situation should arise where you require accommodation because of a medical or personal issue, Social Science Academic Counselling (located at SSC 2105) is available to help you. You can talk to a counsellor, who can then pass along any recommendations for accommodation.
Their contact information is:
Telephone: 519 661-2011
Recorded information: 519 661-2052
Fax: 519 661-3384
Email: ssaco@uwo.ca
Office hours: 9:30am - 4:00pm

This procedure means that you do not have to provide your instructor with any details of your situation, and ensures that the proper documentation is collected when necessary. It is your responsibility to speak with a counsellor as soon as possible after an issue arises. Academic accommodation will only be provided if you speak with an Academic Counsellor and provide them with documentation of your issue, and if the issue is brought to their attention in a timely fashion.

Western Medical Accommodation Policy (Medical Notes): In May, 2008, The University of Western Ontario's Senate approved a new medical note policy, which affects all students. Please follow the procedures as set out by the University and see your Academic Counseling office to present your case and documentation before asking me for an extension without penalty.
