POLITICS 1020E 003: INTRODUCTION TO POLITICAL SCIENCE
SECOND TERM COURSE OUTLINE: JANUARY TO APRIL 2105

Wednesday 7-9pm, UCC 56
Nigmendra Narain, 519-860-3290, nnarain@uwo.ca, SSC 4149
Office Hours: Wednesday 1:00-2:30 & Thursday 2:00-3:30

Course Objectives: What You Will Learn in This Course

(1) In the first term, students will learn some of the most important ideas, arguments, theories, and ideologies produced in the history of political thought in the West, including power, democracy, justice, liberalism, conservatism, socialism, feminism, and environmentalism. In the second term, students will focus primarily on political institutions and the political processes associated with them. The topics to be covered include the following: the state, regime types: democracy and authoritarianism, political economy, political participation, political institutions, and multilevel politics.

(2) Students will develop the capacity to think about politics. In particular, they will acquire and strengthen their abilities to understand and analyze arguments in primary texts and to defend clear positions on potentially controversial political issues such as the obligation to obey the law, the nature of justice, the legitimacy of democracy, the nature of a free society, the status of the dominant ideologies of our time, the value of political participation, and the central political institutions in the modern world.

Students will achieve objective (1) by attending lectures and tutorials regularly and by keeping up with the readings in the required course texts. Students will achieve objective (2) by writing argumentative essays, participating in tutorial discussions, and taking four tests throughout the year. You will get valuable advice on essay writing by reading Professor Jones’s document, ‘How to Write an Essay’, which you can find on the course OWL site. The discussions and writing assignments, along with your reading and lecture attendance, will provide the practice needed to succeed in the tests.

Some Simple Rules Governing the Lectures

1. Politics 1020E 002 is booked into NCB 101 from 11:30am to 1:00pm. Lectures will begin promptly at 11:40am.
2. Given the large number of students, we need extra time for entering and settling into the classroom. Please try to arrive early.
3. To avoid disrupting the class, please be in NCB 101 by 11:40am.
4. If you must arrive late, please use the doors at the back of the room and take the first available seat.

5. Lectures will end by 1:00pm at the latest. This will allow you plenty of time to get to your next class.

6. Please do not leave before the lecture is over: shuffling along the aisles is very distracting. If you must leave early, choose an appropriate seat close to an exit.

7. We will take a short break around 12:15 p.m.

8. With hundreds of students talking amongst themselves, the room can get very noisy. So we ask that you don’t talk to your friends during the lecture.

Participation in Lectures

Participation is an important part of learning, so we want to encourage you to ask us questions whenever you need some clarification or if you would like to make a point on the topic. We will try to take questions frequently, but we might not have time to deal with all of them. Consequently, you may submit written questions to the Question Box at the front of the room. (This is good for those of you who do not want to ask questions in front of hundreds of people.) At the following lecture, we will do our best to answer the most frequently raised – or most interesting -- questions.

Tutorials

Tutorials are small group meetings in which students discuss assigned topics in detail with the help of a tutorial assistant (TA). The first tutorial meetings take place during the week of Monday, January 12, 2015. For a detailed discussion of the tutorial schedule, grading criteria for tutorials, and questions on the tutorial readings, see the Politics 1020E Tutorials document on the course OWL site.

Prerequisites and Anti-Requisites:
Prerequisites: none
Antirequisites: the former Politics 020E and 021F-026G

“Please Note: You are responsible for ensuring that you have successfully completed all course prerequisites, and that you have not taken an antirequisite course. Lack of prerequisites may not be used as a basis for an appeal. If you are found to be ineligible for a course, you may be removed from it at any time and you will receive no adjustment to your fees. This decision cannot be appealed. If you find that you do not have the course prerequisites, it is in your best interest to drop the course well before the end of the add/drop period. Your prompt attention to this matter will not only help protect your academic record, but will ensure that spaces become available for students who require the course in question for graduation.” – Office of the Dean, Faculty of Social Science
