Office: SSC 4144 Office: 4135, SSC
E-mail: calcanta@uwo.ca c.declercy@uwo.ca
Office Hours: Mondays 12:45pm to 1:45pm or by Appointment TBA
Course Time: Mondays 10:30am to 12:30pm Mondays 10:30am to 12:30pm
Classroom: UCC 146 UCC 146

Prerequisites:
Unless you have either the requisites for this course or written special permission from your Dean to enroll in it, you may be removed from this course and it will be deleted from your record. This decision may not be appealed. You will receive no adjustment to your fees in the event that you are dropped from a course for failing to have the necessary prerequisites.

The Professors and Teaching Assistants will respond to email and will do their best to reply within 48 hours (excluding weekends). Do note that university policy precludes the Professors and T.A.s from responding to email messages that were not sent from a Western email account. Note, also, that grades may not be discussed via email and that no assignments will be accepted via email. Please do not send email messages via OWL.

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

The subject of this course is Canadian government and politics. In the fall term, we survey the non-institutional forces that drive cooperation and conflict in Canada. Canada is a country fraught with highly competitive and divergent interests. Various actors, such as individuals, communities, groups, regions and governments constantly push and pull the Canadian state in various directions and yet Canada continues to exist, somehow resisting the forces that should fragment and destroy it. What explains this situation? Each week during the fall term, we will focus on a particular theoretical or conceptual approach and assess its ability to make sense of the non-institutional forces that underpin many of political events and trends that occur in Canada.

In the winter term, the focus turns to the institutional basis of the political system. We examine the constitutional nature of federalism in Canada, and then explore what sorts of political parties compete for power in elections. Some of the core aspects of our parliamentary system are investigated, including the significant power of the prime minister, the duties of the cabinet and the competitive dynamics of the House of Commons and the Senate. In the last set of lectures we consider the role of the courts, particularly with respect to the Charter of Rights and Freedoms. Overall, this course provides an introduction to the major topics, issues, institutions and concepts that have in recent times occupied the minds of Canadian policymakers and the public.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

At the end of the year, students should be able to:

- Identify the main patterns of Canadian political life as they have developed over time across a range of phenomena;
- Describe the forces, actors and institutions that generate these patterns;
- Explain the strengths and weaknesses of the different analytical approaches and how they complement and come into conflict with each other in theory and in practice;
- Identify the core federal political institutions and explain their role in effecting government.
- Synthesize and assess information on Canadian institutions, political phenomena and trends from a variety of academic sources;
- Communicate ideas regarding the nature of Canadian politics in a variety of written and oral mediums to a diverse set of audiences.

REQUIRED TEXTBOOKS:

One textbook is available for purchase at the bookstore and it will be used in both terms to provide students with some basic knowledge about the politics of Canada. The lectures assume that you have read and understood this material so that the instructors can focus on advanced topics in lecture.

Other readings are available online through OWL and/or in the library.

TERM 1 ASSIGNMENTS

1) Mandatory Lecture Attendance

   Pass/Fail

   To pass this half of the course, you must attend at least EIGHT full classes and register your attendance using the iclicker cloud software (visit www.iclicker.com and create an account prior to coming to class). Please bring a wifi-enabled device such as a laptop, smartphone, ipad, Kindle Fire, ipod, or other device to participate and record your attendance. Failure to attend at least EIGHT full classes, which means staying for the entire two hours, registering your attendance and completing each in-class activity during the lecture, will result in an automatic failure of the entire course. Students may attend fewer than 8 classes if such absences are due to legitimate reasons and accompanied by official documentation such as a doctor’s note. Please contact the course instructor immediately if you are unable to attend a class due to a legitimate reason.

2) Knowledge Mobilization Assignment (Due Wednesday Oct. 16 by 11:55pm)

   5%

   One of the key public goods produced by academics is peer-reviewed academic research. Articles in reputable journals and university press books ask important research questions, develop and apply social science theories, and make use of sophisticated quantitative and qualitative methods to generate results that add to our collective knowledge about the political, social and economic world.

   Your task, in this assignment, is to take a piece of academic research and find a way to explain its main findings and applicability/relevance to a contemporary Canadian political problem, event, debate or issue to policymakers and citizens. In other words, your job is to translate academic research findings into words and actions that policymakers and citizens can understand and use to tackle real world problems.

   What are the main findings of the research article? How might policymakers and citizens use this knowledge to address some contemporary problem? In your assignment, identify an important issue or problem and use the article to help policymakers and/or citizens analyze and solve the problem. The problem could be something directly related, or somewhat related to the article’s focus and so you are simply extending the analysis offered in the paper; or it could be a problem that is distantly related or completely different from the one in the article.
To complete this assignment, you must choose and focus on only ONE of the following peer-reviewed academic articles:

Your knowledge mobilization assignment can take a number of forms. You must choose ONE of the following to complete the assignment:

- Write a 500 word (2 pages double spaced) op-ed, which is an opinion piece published in newspapers and written by experts to convince readers to adopt a position on some issue. Authors use op eds to draw attention to a real world event or problem and to provide some sort of argument or solution to the problem. Before you begin working on this assignment, check out the comment pages in the Globe and Mail, the National Post, and the Toronto Star for some examples of op eds. While this option does not require any referencing or bibliography, you should indicate which article you are using as the basis for the op ed. Here you can find some good tips on how to write an effective op ed: https://policyoptions.irpp.org/article-submission/ and the rubric for the op ed can be found in OWL under the “resources” tab.

- Record a podcast of at least two episodes (3-4 minutes long for each one) that summarize the article and speak to its relevance to government actors (1st episode) and NGOs/citizens (2nd episode). Please see the podcast rubric under “resources” in OWL for more information. Here are some useful, general tips on podcasts from NPR: https://training.npr.org/audio/so-you-want-to-start-a-podcast-read-this-first/

- Create four political cartoons, which frequently appear in newspapers as commentary on current events, to show how the reading is relevant to policymakers (2 cartoons) and citizens (2 cartoons). The rubric for grading these cartoons can be found under the “resources” tab in OWL. Some tips for how to design and draw a political cartoon can be found here: https://www.heraldsun.com.au/news/victoria/state-election/how-to-draw-political-cartoons-with-mark-knight/news-story/63643afd9b49967fac9090f8e4bc4681

• Come up with your own idea (Please note that you MUST speak to Dr. Alcantara and get his approval beforehand and as soon as possible otherwise your assignment will not be accepted).

Whichever assignment you chose, you must submit it to the appropriate assignment folder in OWL. No paper or email copies will be accepted.

3) Research Essay (Due Wednesday Nov. 20 by 11:55pm) 15%

Students are to write one 2500 word (8-10 pages maximum) research essay on any contemporary Canadian politics issue or problem. This paper is to be submitted online as an MS-Word file or PDF to the appropriate assignment folder in OWL. No paper or email submissions will be accepted.

For this research essay, your objectives are to:
• identify one contemporary political problem or issue relating to Canadian politics;
• uncover and analyze the forces that have generated the problem or issue by using at least one theoretical or conceptual approach discussed in the course;
• propose a solution to the problem or issue that logically flows out of your analysis.

Given these objectives, your paper MUST be structured and organized as follows (please use headings 2-6 as headings in your actual paper):

1. Title Page: Title of paper, name, student number, and date of submission (Does not count towards page limit)
2. Introduction (1 page)
   • Introduce the problem or issue (what is it?);
   • Specify why it is important (for practitioners, citizens and/or academics);
   • State your research question and your main argument;
   • Describe the organization of the rest of the paper (e.g. this paper begins by identifying a problem or issue, presents an analytical framework, analyzes the problem and poses solutions using that framework; ends with a conclusion about implications);
3. Analytical Framework (2 pages)
   • Discuss your chosen theoretical approach (e.g. social movements or something else) and/or related concepts (e.g. resource mobilization theory or political opportunity structure) by defining the approach and concepts;
• Indicate how they are useful for structuring your analysis of the issue or problem at hand.

4. Analyzing the Causes (2-3 pages)
• Present background information on the problem or issue;
• Specify the causes using the approach, concepts and supporting evidence (see below);
• Assess how convincing this approach and/or concepts are for accurately identifying the causes of the issue or problem;

5. Proposing Solutions (2-3 pages)
• Given the causes, what solution(s) is likely solve the issue or problem? Why? Provide evidence to support your argument.

6. Conclusion (1 page)
• Summarize your findings;
• Discuss the implications of your findings for policymakers or other interested actors. How might they apply your research to the real world?

7. Bibliography (Does not count towards page limit)
• A list of all sources used organized alphabetically by last name. See below under “formatting” for instructions.

Types of Evidence:
• Real world examples (from reports, newspapers, secondary sources, etc).
• Empirical data (interviews; published opinion polls; etc.).
• Reputable published studies/literature (e.g. books, articles, reports) that make an argument persuasively or use empirical data to produce a social scientific finding.
  ○ What is reputable? Academic literature; government reports; think tank reports;
  ○ Keep in mind potential biases! (which is why it’s good to find multiple evidence to support your key points).
• Finding literature: check the references of your sources for more suggestions; search for academic articles through the library search engines and. Find books in library and look at the other books on the shelf where the books are located.

Formatting:
• Please use the formatting (double spaced, headings, 12 Pt font; times new roman; 1 inch or 2.5 cm margins etc) and referencing style (Harvard, in-text) of the Canadian Journal of Political Science.
• All in-text citations MUST INCLUDE PAGE NUMBERS for all materials quoted, paraphrased, or summarized.
• These guidelines are available online at https://www.cpsa-acsp.ca/documents/pdfs/Editorial%20Style%20Guidelines%202008.pdf or in a

Sources:
- You must use at least FIVE academic sources in your research paper beyond the course readings. You are free to use the course readings, including the textbook, for your paper but you must also find an additional five additional academic sources (e.g. peer-reviewed journal articles and/or books published by a university press). Failure to do so will result in a significant penalty applied to the paper.

4) Tutorial Participation

Each week, students will be expected to PARTICIPATE in the discussion of the readings. There is no grade for attendance. Effective participation requires careful preparation (reading and thinking critically about the readings) and actively contributing to class exercises and discussions by responding to the conversations generated by the instructor and classmates. Participation will be evaluated according to whether students:

1. demonstrated that they have read, understood, and thought critically about the course materials and themes;
2. participated in discussions in a civil, respectful, and thoughtful manner, avoiding personal attacks and offensive language;
3. showed a willingness to take decisive stands on issues in a way that fostered intelligent conversation;
4. demonstrated that they are open to changing their opinions as a result of debate and discussion.

5) December Exam

The Office of the Registrar will schedule the December exam during the examination period. Students will be responsible for ALL course materials (lectures, readings, tutorial discussions) from the entire fall term.

Please note that there will be at least one section of the exam that will require students to answer one or more questions using ONLY the course readings. As such, it is important for students to read, take notes, and discuss the course readings throughout the term and in tutorials. I have uploaded a template that students should use and complete for each course reading. It is labelled “Reading Template” and can be downloaded from the “Resources” tab in OWL.

Students should also consider downloading and completing the “week by week review” document after each lecture as a means of digesting the lecture material (in addition to your lecture notes) in a format conducive to preparing for the final exam. You can find this template under the “Resources” tab in OWL.

Tutorials are a vital addition to the weekly lectures. They provide opportunities for students to ask questions, discuss the readings and receive guidance on how to prepare for tests and assignments. The allocation of the tutorial grade will be made by the Teaching Assistant on the basis of quality and quantity of participation on a weekly basis. As with the first term of the course, “Each week, students will be expected to PARTICIPATE in the discussion of the readings.”

There is no grade simply for attending the session; you must communicate to receive marks for credit. “Effective participation requires careful preparation (reading and thinking critically about the readings) and actively contributing to class exercises and discussions by responding to the conversations generated by the instructor and classmates.”

Further information on tutorial expectations will be provided during the first tutorial meeting. Tutorials will commence in the second lecture week in January (or Week 2) of the Winter term.

Attendance in tutorials is mandatory. Should circumstances arise that prevent your tutorial attendance, advise your TA immediately and document the circumstance. If the absence extends for more than one session, submit the documentation to Social Science Academic Counselling and inform the Professor. Note there are no “make-up” opportunities or extra assignments available for missed tutorials.
In-class Test, Term 2

Date: Monday, February 10, 2020
Worth: 10%
Miss penalty: Students who do not write the Feb 10th test will receive a grade of zero, except in the case of documented extenuating circumstances (such as sickness or injury) which are the basis for properly documented requests for Academic Accommodation. Note this test will not be rescheduled or forgiven in the event you are away because you booked travel for this date, as the semester break occurs the following week.

Location: In our regular classroom.

Students are not permitted to use any electronic devices during this test. Further information about this test will be communicated beforehand, in the lecture.

Term 2 Essay

Date: Due at the start of class on Monday, March 9, 2020.
Worth: 15%
Late penalty: 3% of the essay grade per day, to a maximum of ten days (including weekend and statutory holidays) after which the paper will not be accepted. A day is measured as 24 hours from the start of class.

Late papers in Term 2 are to be submitted to the Owl TurnItIn portal, and also the identical hard copy must go under the Prof’s office door (#4135 Social Science centre). (The arrival of late papers is time stamped by the TurnItIn portal, so this will serve as the official record of when a later paper has been submitted for grading. The hard copy must be submitted as soon as possible, or additional late penalties will be applied at the discretion of the Professor.

Length: Essays must be a minimum of 2500 words long, and a maximum of 3000 words (about 10-12 pages of text), excluding endnotes, parenthetical notes, maps or the bibliography.
Formatting:

- Please use the formatting (double spaced, headings, 12 Pt font; times new roman; 1 inch or 2.5 cm margins etc) and referencing style (Harvard, in-text) of the Canadian Journal of Political Science.
- All in-text citations MUST INCLUDE PAGE NUMBERS for all materials quoted, paraphrased, or summarized.
- These guidelines are available online at https://www.cpsa-acsp.ca/documents/pdfs/Editorial%20Style%20Guidelines%202008.pdf or in a hard copy of the journal post-2005. (Make sure you get an example copy published after 2005 when Cambridge University Press took over the journal.)

Important information about Plagiarism: Your research paper must be your own work. If you refer to someone else’s work, quote them, or borrow ideas, you must cite them! This outline includes a policy statement on plagiarism, below – read it and follow it. If you are in doubt as to what to cite, remember: in this case, more is better than less.

Papers must be submitted to Turnitin.com (through the course webpage on OWL/WebCT) electronically prior to submitting an exact duplicate hard copy for grading.

A Term 2 “Essay Instructions” sheet containing the specific topics and additional requirements and information will be handed out and discussed in the lecture.

Final Exam

Date: As scheduled by the Registrar in April.
Worth: 20%
Miss penalty: Students who do not write the final exam will receive a grade of zero, except in the case of documented extenuating circumstances such as sickness or injury. Note this test will not be rescheduled or forgiven for reasons such as you miss it because you booked travel for this date, your lease has ended, or your summer employment is beginning.

Students are not permitted to use any electronic devices during this exam.
IMPORTANT POLICIES

Grade Appeals

If you are concerned that your assignment was not graded fairly or correctly, you must wait 72 hours before contacting your TA to appeal your grade. At no point, however, are you allowed to meet your TA in person to appeal your grade.

To appeal your grade, you must email to your TA a formal 1 page written explanation stating why you think your assignment was improperly graded. The TA will respond to your appeal in writing. Should you be unhappy with the TA’s reassessment of your paper, you can appeal to the course instructor. To do so, please email the course instructor your original 1 page explanation to the TA, the TA’s response, a new 1 page written explanation detailing why a further appeal is necessary, and a clean copy of your paper to the instructor. Ensure that any and all identifying information is removed from the paper. A second reader will then grade your paper. If the second reader assigns a grade that is 5% higher or lower than the original grade, the original grade will stand. If the second marker assigns a mark that is 5% (or more) higher or lower than the original grade, then the final grade will be the average of the original and new assessments.

Students must take responsibility for picking up their marked work in a timely manner. No appeals will be considered more than 3 weeks after the assignment was made available for return. Grades may be either raised or lowered on appeal. Students who wish to appeal an examination grade should follow the same procedure noted above for assignments.

Resources:

Students are encouraged to visit the library and use the services of the reference librarians for help with their critical analysis, annotated bibliography and research paper. The Writing Support Centre at UWO is available to help students with their assignments (http://www.sdc.uwo.ca/writing/index.html?main).

Students can also make use of the Martin Westmacott Political Science Resource Room, located in SSC 4109. The room has a variety of resources (videotapes, books, journals and newspaper articles) and program information about undergraduate programs offered by the department. The room is open Monday-Friday, 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. Various support services are also available through UWO. You can access information about the Registrar’s Office at http://www.registrar.uwo.ca and Student Development Services at http://www.sdc.uwo.ca.

Submission of Assignments:
Term 1:

Op Eds and research essays MUST be submitted online as an MS-Word file or PDF to the appropriate assignment folder in OWL. Students are responsible for ensuring that their papers have successfully been submitted to the appropriate assignment folders on OWL. Please be aware that internet servers tend to slow down near the deadlines as dozens of students try to submit their papers at the same time so submit early. No extensions will be granted on the basis of technological failures or unexpected slowdowns with the OWL server.

Under no circumstances should assignments be physically handed in, emailed, or slipped under any door. Students should always keep a copy of any work that is handed in, at least until it is graded and returned. Students should also keep all rough and draft work.

Term 2:

The essay assignment in Term 2 is due at the beginning of class. Essays may not be submitted by fax or e-mail, outside of class time (the lecture), or while the lecture is in progress. The essay must have been submitted to the class Owl TurnItIn portal by the start of class, and also one identical hard copy is due at the beginning of class, to be considered to have been submitted on time.

Note as the arrival of late papers is time stamped by the TurnItIn portal, so this will serve as the official record of when a late paper has been submitted for grading. The hard copy must be submitted as soon as possible, under Professor de Clercy’s office door (#4135, SSC) or additional late penalties will accrue at her discretion.

All assignments are subject to submission for textual similarity review to the commercial plagiarism detection software under license to the University for the detection of plagiarism. All assignments submitted for such checking will be included as source documents in the reference database for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of papers subsequently submitted to the system. Use of the service is subject to the licensing agreement, currently between The University of Western Ontario and Turnitin.com (http://www.turnitin.com). Students must submit their work to Turnitin.

Late penalties:

As noted above, a penalty of 3% per day including weekends and statutory holidays will be assigned to late assignments (op eds, research essays, and term essays). Late assignments will be accepted for a maximum of ten days after the original due date, including holidays and weekends. After this time, the papers will not be accepted for grading. A “day” is calculated as the 24 hour period following the normal class start time.
For Term 2 assignments, late papers can be submitted to Turnitin over weekends, and will be accepted as submitted according to the TurnItIn timestamp, on the condition that a hard copy of the paper is submitted to Professor de Clercy as soon as the university opens the next working day.

Academic Offences and Plagiarism:

Scholastic offences are taken seriously and students are directed to read the appropriate policy about what constitutes a scholastic offence, here:

https://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/scholastic_discipline_undergrad.pdf

That policy reads:
“Scholastic Offences include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. Plagiarism, which may be defined as “The act or an instance of copying or stealing another’s words or ideas and attributing them as one’s own.” Excerpted from Black’s Law Dictionary, West Group, 1999, 7th ed., p. 1170. This concept applies with equal force to all assignments, including laboratory reports, diagrams, and computer projects. Students wishing more detailed information should consult their instructor, Department Chair, or Dean’s Office. In addition, they may seek guidance from a variety of current style manuals available in the University’s libraries. Information about these resources can be found at: http://www.lib.uwo.ca/services/styleguides.html

2. Cheating on an examination or falsifying material subject to academic evaluation.

3. Submitting false or fraudulent assignments or credentials; or falsifying records, transcripts or other academic documents.

4. Submitting a false medical or other such certificate under false pretences.

5. a) Improperly obtaining, through theft, bribery, collusion or otherwise, an examination paper prior to the date and time for writing such an examination. b) Unauthorized possession of an examination paper, however obtained, prior to the date and time for writing such an examination, unless the student reports the matter to the instructor, the relevant Department, or the Registrar as soon as possible after receiving the paper in question.

6. Impersonating a candidate at an examination or availing oneself of the results of such an impersonation.

7. Intentionally interfering in any way with any person’s scholastic work.
8. Submitting for credit in any course or program of study, without the knowledge and written approval of the instructor to whom it is submitted, any academic work for which credit has been obtained previously or is being sought in another course or program of study in the University or elsewhere.

9. Aiding or abetting any such offence.”

Note that point 8 refers to a situation in which a student submits a paper written for a previous or concurrent course. If you do this, you are committing a scholastic offense. Instead, you must produce new work for each class unless you have obtained the written permission of all course instructors involved.

Extensions:

Extensions are not given. Students are able to hand assignments in late subject to the stated policy above. However, when there are genuine and unavoidable family or medical circumstances, you may seek academic accommodation, as detailed below. If you fail to hand in an assignment, but are pursuing academic accommodation, please advise your professor immediately.

A Note Regarding Computer Problems:
Students are expected to back up their written work and lecture/tutorial notes. Furthermore, students will be responsible for finding replacement lecture/tutorial notes where they fail to back-up their files.

Academic Accommodation:

This policy is effective September 1, 2019; beginning with the 2019-2020 Fall/Winter Academic Year.

Policy Review: This Policy is a pilot version and will be reviewed after 2 years by SCAPA. It may be reviewed prior to the two-year term where it is determined that an earlier review is necessary because of a change in University practices or procedures; or any other reason that would call into question the applicability of the Policy in its current form.

Students who experience an extenuating circumstance (illness, injury, or other extenuating circumstance) sufficiently significant to temporarily render them unable to meet academic requirements may submit a request for academic consideration through the following routes:

1) Submitting a Self-Reported Absence form provided that the conditions for submission are met;
2) For medical absences, submitting a Student Medical Certificate (SMC) signed by a licensed medical or mental health practitioner in order to be eligible for Academic Consideration; or

3) For non-medical absences, submitting appropriate documentation (e.g., obituary, police report, accident report, court order, etc.) to Academic Counselling in their Faculty of registration in order to be eligible for academic consideration.

Students are encouraged to contact the Social Science Academic Counselling (located at SSC 2105/2114), which is available to help you with these issues. Their contact information is:

- Telephone: 519 661-2011
- Recorded information: 519 661-2052
- Fax: 519 661-3384
- Email: ssaco@uwo.ca
- Office hours: 9:30am - 4:00pm

Students seeking academic consideration are advised to consider carefully the implications of postponing tests or midterm exams or delaying handing in work. They are also encouraged to make appropriate decisions based on their specific circumstances, recognizing that minor ailments (upset stomach) or upsets (argument with a friend) are not normally an appropriate basis for a self-reported absence.

Students must communicate with their instructors no later than 24 hours after the end of the period covered by either the self-reported absence or SMC, or immediately upon their return following a documented absence.

Academic consideration is not normally intended for the following circumstances:

- Students requiring academic accommodation based on an ongoing physical or mental illness (recurring or chronic) or an existing disability. These students are expected to seek and arrange reasonable accommodations with Student Accessibility Services (SAS) as soon as possible.

- Students with pre-existing accessibility plans arranged through SAS may not need to provide additional documentation when seeking academic consideration where such request for consideration relates to their disability and where their accessibility plans allow for coursework deferral or deadline extensions.

- Students who experience high levels of stress related to academic performance (including completing assignments, taking part in presentations, or writing tests or examinations). Students with academic or exam stress should access supports through Student Health and Wellness and Learning Skills Services in order to deal with this stress in a proactive and constructive manner.

Requests for Academic Consideration Using the Self-Reported Absence Form

Students who experience an unexpected illness or injury or an extenuating circumstance (48 hours or less) that is sufficiently severe to temporarily render them unable to meet academic requirements (e.g., attending lectures or labs, writing tests or midterm exams, completing and submitting assignments, participating in presentations) should self-declare using the online Self-Reported Absence portal. This option should be used in situations where the student expects to resume academic responsibilities within 48 hours or less.

Students will be allowed a maximum of two self-reported absences between September and April and one self-reported absence between May and August;

Any absences in excess of the number designated in clause a above, regardless of duration, will require students to present a Student Medical Certificate (SMC) and presented to Academic Counselling no later than two business days after the date specified for resuming responsibilities.

The duration of the excused absence will be for a maximum of 48 hours from the time the Self-Reported Absence form is completed through the online portal, or from 8:30 am the following morning if the form is submitted after 4:30 pm;

The duration of the excused absence will terminate prior to the end of the 48 hour period should the student undertake significant academic responsibilities (write a test, submit a paper) during that time;

The duration of an excused absence will terminate at 8:30 am on the day following the last day of classes each semester regardless of how many days of absence have elapsed;

Self-reported absences will not be allowed for scheduled final examinations; or for midterm examinations scheduled during the December examination period

Self-reporting may not be used for assessments (e.g. midterm exams, tests, reports, presentations, or essays) worth more than 30% of any given course.

This procedure means that you do not have to provide your instructor or T.A. with any details of your situation, but ensures that the proper documentation has been provided. IT IS YOUR RESPONSIBILITY TO SPEAK WITH A COUNSELLOR AS SOON AS POSSIBLE AFTER AN ISSUE ARISES. Academic accommodation will ONLY be provided if you follow the procedures above and if the issue is brought to their attention in a timely fashion. While academic accommodation may be warranted, students should not assume that a full week’s extension will be granted. Instead, the accommodation will reflect the seriousness of the situation. For example, if a student produces medical documentation detailing that s/he was sick for two days, a two-day extension normally will be granted. Therefore students should submit their work accordingly, even if the academic accommodation process is still underway.

Note students who are entitled to accommodations to allow them to take tests or exams fairly (e.g. writing in a quiet environment) MUST make these arrangements 2 weeks before the test or exam date to be so accommodated. Ensuring these provisions are in place is not the responsibility of the teaching assistants or the instructor; it is the responsibility of the student. For more information see “How to Schedule Accommodated Exams with Exam Services”, at http://registrar.uwo.ca/examinations/accommodated_exams.html.

Note Regarding Medical Illness:

Please be aware that the policies regarding medical documentation have changed. The following is an excerpt from the Policy on Accommodation for Medical Illness - Undergraduate Students (S.08-113).

Documentation from Family Physicians and Walk-In Clinics
A UWO Student Medical Certificate (SMC) is required where a student is seeking academic accommodation. This documentation should be obtained at the time of the initial consultation with the physician or walk-in clinic. An SMC can be downloaded under the Medical Documentation heading of the following web site: https://studentservices.uwo.ca/secure/index.cfm. Hard copies are available from Academic Counselling in the Faculties.

Documentation from Student Health Services
Students obtaining documentation from Student Health Services should sign a “release of information.” This form authorizes Student Health Services to provide information to the student’s home Faculty. Release of information forms are available from, and can be arranged through, the student’s home Faculty Academic Counselling service.

Documentation from Hospital Urgent Care Centres or Emergency Departments
Students should request that an SMC be filled out. Students may bring this form with them, or request alternative Emergency Department documentation. Documentation should be secured at the time of the initial visit to the Emergency Department. Where it is not possible for a student to have an SMC completed by the attending physician, the student must request documentation sufficient to demonstrate that his/her ability to meet his/her academic responsibilities was seriously affected.
Use of Electronic Devices:

Term 1:

Laptops, iPads, smartphones and related devices are amazing tools, with remarkable capabilities. Among other things, they allow us to download PowerPoint slides, maintain a portable work station, keep neatly typed lecture notes, and stay in touch with friends through social networking sites, texting, and instant messaging. Because activities that provide entertainment for an individual (e.g., movie trailers, party photos, status updates) often prove distracting for others, there is a need to follow basic rules of electronic etiquette in a classroom setting. Whether you are sitting with friends or by yourself, please consider the impact of your electronic activities on those who are attempting to listen to lectures, watch class films, and participate in discussions. All students are expected to comply with a simple principle: if it might distract someone sitting beside you or near you, don’t do it.

Term 2:

Students are not permitted to use any electronic devices during test and exams.

Students are asked to turn off their cell phones during lectures and tutorials.

Laptops are permitted during lectures and tutorials ONLY for the purpose of note-taking. If students use their computers for other activities during a lecture, or are causing undue distraction to their peers, they will be asked to leave the lecture.

Lecture Copyright:

The course instructors claim material and image copyright so please ask for permission if you want to audio record or video record any part of the course.

Statement on Contact

If you have questions or concerns, or wish to meet with the TAs or the course instructor in person, you can contact us via email or by attending posted office hours. Please expect at least a 48 hour delay in receiving a response to emails, although at our discretion responses may occur sooner.
TERM 1 CLASS AND READING SCHEDULE

Week 1 (September 9): Introductions and Administrivia
Review course outline, assignments, and expectations. Syllabus assignment. Plagiarism exercise. Lecture on political science and Canadian politics at UWO.

PART 1: IDENTITY, NATIONALISM, AND REGIONALISM

Week 2 (September 16): Canadian Identity and Nationalism Part I - Quebec
What does it mean to be Canadian? How are identity and nationalism both a source of tension and unity in Canada?

- READ:
  - Brooks Chapter 14;
  - “Chapter 8: What is a Canadian?” in Ajzenstat et al. eds., Canada’s Founding Debates University of Toronto Press, 2003, pp. 229-258;

Tutorials:
  - Discuss the Ajzenstat reading. What are the founder’s views about Canadian identity and how relevant are they to contemporary Canada? Do they apply and should they apply?

Week 3 (September 23): Canadian Identity and Nationalism Part II – Indigenous Peoples
To what extent have Indigenous peoples challenged the way in which we conceptualize the Canadian nation?

- READ:
  - Brooks Chapter 16;

Tutorials:
  - Discuss the Kymlicka reading. To what extent can and should Canada adopt Kymlicka’s ideas about citizenship? Are they compatible with the needs of Indigenous peoples?

Week 4 (September 30): Regionalism Part I – The West
To what extent is Canadian politics driven by regionalism? Do we need to “let the west back in” or are their concerns merely a fantasy?

- READ:
  - Brooks Chapter 5;

Tutorials:
  - Is the West a region? Is Western alienation an expression of regionalism? What characteristics are necessary to achieve these categorizations and are they present? Does Canada need a “cure” for western alienation and if so, are Lawson’s solutions the right ones?

Week 5 (October 7): Regionalism Part II – The North

How important is the Canadian north to the practice of politics in Canada?

- READ:
  - Jeremy Seth Geddart. 2019. “Right of (Northwest) Passage: Toward a Responsible Canadian Arctic Sovereignty.” Canadian Journal of Political Science DOI: https://doi.org/10.1017/S0008423919000052

Tutorials:
  - Does northern regionalism exist? In what ways should Canadian internal and external interests in the North be addressed?

Week 6 (October 14): Thanksgiving Monday (No class and tutorials this week)

PART 2: ECONOMICS AND ELITES

Week 7 (October 21): Canadian Political Economy

To what extent does the market and the political institutions that serve it drive Canadian political life?

- READ:
• Brooks Chapter 3;

Tutorials:
• Are you convinced by the political economy arguments in the readings and their implications for Canadian politics? Are there alternative approaches that might challenge them?

PART 3: GROUPS

Week 8 (October 28): Social Movements Part I – Theory and Practice
What is a social movement? And how do they influence Canadian politics?

- READ:
  • Brooks chapter 15;

Tutorials:
• To what extent can we successfully analyze the women’s movement and the anti-abortion movement using the tools of social movement theory (RMT, SMT, POS)? What alternative theories, concepts, and approaches might challenge the explanations of processes and outcomes provided by these theories? Compare the various social movement theories against each other as well as other theories or concepts we have learned so far.

Week 9 (November 4): Fall Reading Week (No classes or tutorials).

Week 10 (November 11): Social Movements Part II – Other Examples
Does every issue require a movement? Can new movements be as effective as older ones?

- READ:

Tutorials:
• To what extent is it useful or accurate to think of the gay and lesbian and Hep C movements as social movements? Are there alternative theories, concepts, or approaches that explain these phenomena better?

PART 4: INDIVIDUALS

Week 11 (November 18): Rational Choice and Game Theory
Is it in fact more accurate to describe the practice of politics in Canada as the result of rational individuals pursuing their self-interest?

- READ:
  • Tom Flanagan, Game Theory and Canadian Politics University of Toronto Press, 1999, chapter 1;
  • Sandra Breux, Jerome Couture, and Nicole Goodman. 2016. “Fewer voters, higher stakes? The applicability of rational choice for voter turnout in Quebec municipalities.” Environment and Planning C.

Optional Tutorial:
• Students are not required to attend tutorials this week.
• Instead, the teaching assistants will be available in the classrooms to answer any last minute questions about the research essay.

PART 5: INTERNATIONAL FORCES

Week 12 (November 25): Globalization and the Canadian State
In light of the emergence of powerful international forces, whither Canada?

- READ:
  • Brooks Chapter 17;
Tutorials:
- Does Globalization threaten or empower Canada?

Week 13 (December 2): Canada and the World and Exam Review

What should the role of Canada in the world be? To what extent is Canadian foreign policy effective for promoting Canadian interests domestically and abroad?

- READ:

Tutorials:
- What should Canada focus on in terms of its foreign policy? Is bipartisanship part of the answer? What role should its subnational units play in shaping and implementing Canadian foreign policy?
APPENDIX TO UNDERGRADUATE COURSE OUTLINES
DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE

Prerequisite checking - the student’s responsibility
"Unless you have either the requisites for this course or written special permission from your Dean to enroll in it, you may be removed from this course and it will be deleted from your record. This decision may not be appealed. You will receive no adjustment to your fees in the event that you are dropped from a course for failing to have the necessary prerequisites."

Essay course requirements
With the exception of 1000-level courses, most courses in the Department of Political Science are essay courses. Total written assignments (excluding examinations) will be at least 3,000 words in Politics 1020E, at least 5,000 words in a full course numbered 2000 or above, and at least 2,500 words in a half course numbered 2000 or above.

Use of Personal Response Systems (“Clickers”)
"Personal Response Systems ("clickers") may be used in some classes. If clickers are to be used in a class, it is the responsibility of the student to ensure that the device is activated and functional. Students must see their instructor if they have any concerns about whether the clicker is malfunctioning. Students must use only their own clicker. If clicker records are used to compute a portion of the course grade:
• the use of somebody else’s clicker in class constitutes a scholastic offence,
• the possession of a clicker belonging to another student will be interpreted as an attempt to commit a scholastic offence."

Security and Confidentiality of Student Work (refer to current Western Academic Calendar)
"Submitting or Returning Student Assignments, Tests and Exams - All student assignments, tests and exams will be handled in a secure and confidential manner. Particularly in this respect, leaving student work unattended in public areas for pickup is not permitted."

Duplication of work
Undergraduate students who submit similar assignments on closely related topics in two different courses must obtain the consent of both instructors prior to the submission of the assignment. If prior approval is not obtained, each instructor reserves the right not to accept the assignment.

Grade adjustments
In order to ensure that comparable standards are applied in political science courses, the Department may require instructors to adjust final marks to conform to Departmental guidelines.

Academic Offences
"Scholastic offences are taken seriously and students are directed to read the appropriate policy, specifically, the definition of what constitutes a Scholastic Offence, at the following Web site: http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/scholastic_discipline_undergrad.pdf
Submission of Course Requirements

ESSAYS, ASSIGNMENTS, TAKE-HOME EXAMS MUST BE SUBMITTED ACCORDING TO PROCEDURES SPECIFIED BY YOUR INSTRUCTOR (I.E., IN CLASS, DURING OFFICE HOURS, TA'S OFFICE HOURS) OR UNDER THE INSTRUCTOR'S OFFICE DOOR.

THE MAIN OFFICE DOES NOT DATE-STAMP OR ACCEPT ANY OF THE ABOVE.

Attendance Regulations for Examinations
EXAMINATIONS/ATTENDANCE (Sen. Min. Feb.4/49, May 23/58, S.94, S.3538, S.3632, S.04-097) A student is entitled to be examined in courses in which registration is maintained, subject to the following limitations: 1) A student may be debarred from writing the final examination for failure to maintain satisfactory academic standing throughout the year. 2) Any student who, in the opinion of the instructor, is absent too frequently from class or laboratory periods in any course will be reported to the Dean of the Faculty offering the course (after due warning has been given). On the recommendation of the Department concerned, and with the permission of the Dean of that Faculty, the student will be debarred from taking the regular examination in the course. The Dean of the Faculty offering the course will communicate that decision to the Dean of the Faculty of registration.

Medical Policy, Late Assignments, etc.
Students registered in Social Science should refer to http://counselling.ssc.uwo.ca/procedures/having_problems/index.html for information on Medical Policy, Term Tests, Final Examinations, Late Assignments, Short Absences, Extended Absences, Documentation and other Academic Concerns. Non-Social Science students should refer to their home faculty’s academic counselling office.

University Policy on Cheating and Academic Misconduct

Plagiarism: Students must write their essays and assignments in their own words. Whenever students take an idea, or a passage from another author, they must acknowledge their debt both by using quotation marks where appropriate and by proper referencing such as footnotes or citations. Plagiarism is a major academic offence." (see Scholastic Offence Policy in the Western Academic Calendar).

Plagiarism Checking: "All required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to the commercial plagiarism detection software under license to the University for the detection of plagiarism. All papers submitted for such checking will be included as source documents in the reference database for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of papers subsequently submitted to the system. Use of the service is subject to the licensing agreement, currently between The University of Western Ontario and Turnitin.com (http://www.turnitin.com )."

Multiple-choice tests/exams: "Computer-marked multiple-choice tests and/or exams may be subject to submission for similarity review by software that will check for unusual coincidences in answer patterns that may indicate cheating."

Note: Information excerpted and quoted above are Senate regulations from the Handbook of Scholarship and Academic Policy. http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/academic_policies/index.html
In writing scholarly papers, you must keep firmly in mind the need to avoid plagiarism. Plagiarism is the unacknowledged borrowing of another writer's words or ideas. Different forms of writing require different types of acknowledgement. The following rules pertain to the acknowledgements necessary in academic papers.

A. In using another writer's words, you must both place the words in quotation marks and acknowledge that the words are those of another writer.

You are plagiarizing if you use a sequence of words, a sentence or a paragraph taken from other writers without acknowledging them to be theirs. Acknowledgement is indicated either by (1) mentioning the author and work from which the words are borrowed in the text of your paper; or by (2) placing a footnote number at the end of the quotation in your text, and including a correspondingly numbered footnote at the bottom of the page (or in a separate reference section at the end of your essay). This footnote should indicate author, title of the work, place and date of publication, and page number.

Method (2) given above is usually preferable for academic essays because it provides the reader with more information about your sources and leaves your text uncluttered with parenthetical and tangential references. In either case words taken from another author must be enclosed in quotation marks or set off from your text by single spacing and indentation in such a way that they cannot be mistaken for your own words. Note that you cannot avoid indicating quotation simply by changing a word or phrase in a sentence or paragraph which is not your own.

B. In adopting other writers' ideas, you must acknowledge that they are theirs.

You are plagiarizing if you adopt, summarize, or paraphrase other writers' trains of argument, ideas or sequences of ideas without acknowledging their authorship according to the method of acknowledgement given in 'A' above. Since the words are your own, they need not be enclosed in quotation marks. Be certain, however, that the words you use are entirely your own; where you must use words or phrases from your source, these should be enclosed in quotation marks, as in 'A' above.

Clearly, it is possible for you to formulate arguments or ideas independently of another writer who has expounded the same ideas, and whom you have not read. Where you got your ideas is the important consideration here. Do not be afraid to present an argument or idea without acknowledgement to another writer, if you have arrived at it entirely independently. Acknowledge it if you have derived it from a source outside your own thinking on the subject.

In short, use of acknowledgements and, when necessary, quotation marks is necessary to distinguish clearly between what is yours and what is not. Since the rules have been explained to you, if you fail to make this distinction your instructor very likely will do so for you, and they will be forced to regard your omission as intentional literary theft. Plagiarism is a serious offence which may result in a student's receiving an 'F' in a course or, in extreme cases in their suspension from the University.
