Course Description:

This course provides international students, recent immigrants, and others with a comprehensive overview of Canada. Its purpose is to help mainly newcomers gain a better understanding of what it means to live, study, and work in Canada, with a focus on describing Canada’s political and legal system, its key policy debates, and its social and economic bases. Specific topics may include Indigenous rights and decolonization, the Charter of Rights and Freedoms, capitalism, climate change, education policy, federalism, foreign policy, health care policy, housing policy, the legal system, immigration, Quebec, multiculturalism, and value change. Students will learn about the key characteristics of Canada through lectures, guest speakers, readings, videos, and other materials.

Learning Objectives:
At the end of the term, students should be able to:

- Describe the nature and evolution of Canada’s political, economic and legal systems;
- Explain the historical and on-going importance of Quebec and Indigenous peoples to Canada and Canadian identity;
- Assess the relationship between Canadian policies and the unique and complex makeup of Canadian society;
- Synthesize information on Canada from a variety of sources.

REQUIRED TEXTBOOKS AND READINGS:

- Other readings are available through OWL, in the library, and/or online.

LIST OF ASSIGNMENTS

1) Three Tests on the Readings and the Lectures: 70%

   - Week 4, Friday Oct. 6, anytime between 6am and 10pm: 20%
   - Week 7, Friday Oct. 27, anytime between 6am and 10pm: 25%
   - Week 10, Friday Nov. 17, anytime between 6am and 10pm: 25%

2) Final Exam on OWL: 30%

   - To be scheduled by the Registrar’s Office.

   Total: 100% of Course Grade

ASSIGNMENT DETAILS

1) Three One-Hour Tests

   Students will write a test on OWL on the Friday of Weeks 4, 7 and 10 (Oct.6, Oct. 27 and Nov. 17). Each test will be based on all course materials (e.g. lectures and readings) up to that date (cumulative) but with a very strong emphasis on materials since the last test. Students will have ONE hour to complete the test and may access the test at any time between 6am and 10pm on the day that the test is scheduled to occur.

   Students are expected to complete the tests alone and with no aids, human, AI (e.g. ChatGPT) or otherwise.

2) Final Exam

   Students will write a final exam on OWL during the exam period as scheduled by the Registrar’s Office. It will assess students’ knowledge of ALL course materials, but with a stronger emphasis on course materials from the last test onwards.

   To help you prepare for these tests and the final exam, I have uploaded templates that students should use and complete for each lecture and course reading. They can be found under the “Resources” tab in OWL and are labelled, “reading template” and “week by week review”.

COURSE POLICIES

Academic Offences and Plagiarism:

Scholastic offences are taken seriously and students are directed to read the appropriate policy about what constitutes a scholastic offence, here:

https://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/scholastic_discipline_undergrad.pdf

That policy reads:
“Scholastic Offences include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. Plagiarism, which may be defined as “The act or an instance of copying or stealing another’s words or ideas and attributing them as one’s own.” Excerpted from Black’s Law Dictionary, West Group, 1999, 7th ed., p. 1170. This concept applies with equal force to all assignments, including laboratory reports, diagrams, and computer projects. Students wishing more detailed information should consult their instructor, Department Chair, or Dean’s Office. In addition, they may seek guidance from a variety of current style manuals available in the University’s libraries. Information about these resources can be found at: http://www.lib.uwo.ca/services/styleguides.html

2. Cheating on an examination or falsifying material subject to academic evaluation.

3. Submitting false or fraudulent assignments or credentials; or falsifying records, transcripts or other academic documents.

4. Submitting a false medical or other such certificate under false pretences.

5. a) Improperly obtaining, through theft, bribery, collusion or otherwise, an examination paper prior to the date and time for writing such an examination. b) Unauthorized possession of an examination paper, however obtained, prior to the date and time for writing such an examination, unless the student reports the matter to the instructor, the relevant Department, or the Registrar as soon as possible after receiving the paper in question.

6. Impersonating a candidate at an examination or availing oneself of the results of such an impersonation.

7. Intentionally interfering in any way with any person’s scholastic work.

8. Submitting for credit in any course or program of study, without the knowledge and written approval of the instructor to whom it is submitted, any academic work for which credit has been obtained previously or is being sought in another course or program of study in the University or elsewhere.

9. Aiding or abetting any such offence.”

Note that point 8 refers to a situation in which a student submits a paper written for a previous or concurrent course. If you do this, you are committing a scholastic offense. Instead, you must produce new work for each class unless you have obtained the written permission of all course instructors involved.

Extensions and Academic Consideration for Student Absence:

Extensions are not generally given. When there are genuine and unavoidable family or medical circumstances, you may seek academic accommodation, as detailed below.

For work totalling 10% or more of the final course grade, you must provide valid medical or supporting documentation to the Academic Counselling Office of your Faculty of Registration as soon as possible. For further information, please consult the University’s medical illness policy at

The Student Medical Certificate is available at

Religious Accommodation

When a course requirement conflicts with a religious holiday that requires an absence from the University or prohibits certain activities, students should request accommodation for their absence in writing at least two weeks prior to the holiday to the course instructor and/or the Academic Counselling office of their Faculty of Registration. Please consult University’s list of recognized religious holidays (updated annually) at

Accommodation Policies

Students with disabilities are encouraged to contact Accessible Education, which provides recommendations for accommodation based on medical documentation or psychological and cognitive testing. The policy on Academic Accommodation for Students with Disabilities can be found at:

Use of Electronic Devices:

Laptops, iPads, smartphones and related devices are amazing tools, with remarkable capabilities. Among other things, they allow us to download PowerPoint slides, maintain a portable work station, keep neatly typed lecture notes, and stay in touch with friends through social networking sites, texting, and instant messaging. Because activities that provide entertainment for an individual (e.g., movie trailers, party photos, status updates) often prove distracting for others, there is a need to follow basic rules of electronic etiquette in a classroom setting. Whether you are sitting with friends or by yourself, please consider the impact of your electronic activities on those who are attempting to listen to lectures, watch class films, and participate in discussions. All students are expected to comply with a simple principle: if it might distract someone sitting beside you or near you, don’t do it.

Lecture Copyright:

The course instructors claim material and image copyright so please ask for permission if you want to audio record or video record any part of the course.

Statement on Contact

If you have questions or concerns, or wish to meet the course instructor in person, you can contact us via email or by attending posted office hours. Please expect at least a 48 hour delay in receiving a response to emails, although at our discretion responses may occur sooner.

Statements concerning Online Etiquette

Some components of this course may involve online interactions. To ensure the best experience for both you and your classmates, please honour the following rules of etiquette:

- please “arrive” to class on time
- please use your computer and/or laptop if possible (as opposed to a cell phone or tablet)
- ensure that you are in a private location to protect the confidentiality of discussions in the event that a class discussion deals with sensitive or personal material
- to minimize background noise, kindly mute your microphone for the entire class until you are invited to speak, unless directed otherwise
- [suggested for classes larger than 30 students] In order to give us optimum bandwidth and web quality, please turn off your video camera for the entire class unless you are invited to speak
• [suggested for cases where video is used] please be prepared to turn your video camera off at the instructor’s request if the internet connection becomes unstable
• unless invited by your instructor, do not share your screen in the meeting

The course instructor will act as moderator for the class and will deal with any questions from participants. To participate please consider the following:

• if you wish to speak, use the “raise hand” function and wait for the instructor to acknowledge you before beginning your comment or question
• remember to unmute your microphone and turn on your video camera before speaking
• self-identify when speaking.
• remember to mute your mic and turn off your video camera after speaking (unless directed otherwise)

General considerations of “netiquette”:

• Keep in mind the different cultural and linguistic backgrounds of the students in the course.
• Be courteous toward the instructor, your colleagues, and authors whose work you are discussing.
• Be respectful of the diversity of viewpoints that you will encounter in the class and in your readings. The exchange of diverse ideas and opinions is part of the scholarly environment. “Flaming” is never appropriate.
• Be professional and scholarly in all online postings. Cite the ideas of others appropriately.

Note that disruptive behaviour of any type during online classes, including inappropriate use of the chat function, is unacceptable. Students found guilty of Zoom-bombing a class or of other serious online offenses may be subject to disciplinary measures under the Code of Student Conduct.

Support Services

Please visit the Social Science Academic Counselling webpage for information on adding/dropping courses, academic considerations for absences, appeals, exam conflicts, and many other academic related matters: Academic Counselling - Western University (uwo.ca)

Students who are in emotional/mental distress should refer to Mental Health@Western (https://uwo.ca/health/) for a complete list of options about how to obtain help.

Western is committed to reducing incidents of gender-based and sexual violence and providing compassionate support to anyone who has gone through these traumatic events. If you have experienced sexual or gender-based violence (either recently or in the past), you will find information about support services for survivors, including emergency contacts at

To connect with a case manager or set up an appointment, please contact support@uwo.ca.

Learning-skills counsellors at the Learning Development and Success Centre (https://learning.uwo.ca) are ready to help you improve your learning skills. They offer presentations on strategies for improving time management, multiple-choice exam preparation/writing, textbook reading, and more. Individual support is offered throughout the Fall/Winter terms in the drop-in Learning Help Centre, and year-round through individual counselling.

Western University is committed to a thriving campus as we deliver our courses in the mixed model of both virtual and face-to-face formats. We encourage you to check out the Digital Student Experience website to manage your academics and well-being: https://www.uwo.ca/se/digital/.
